Your privacy and your personal data

We would like to inform you about the processing of your personal data.

We store your personal and medical data digitally. We do this to provide good care to you. We process your data in accordance with our privacy and data security policy. You agree to this storage (processing) by having your care provided by our practice.

This is how we handle your personal data:

- We store and use your personal data so that we can provide good care to you.
- We only pass on your data to third parties if this is necessary to provide good care. If specific permission is required by law, we will ask you for it in advance.
- We process your data on the basis of the treatment agreement as described in the Medical Treatment Agreement Act (WGBO).
- You can view parts of your personal data. Please send us a written request.
- If you feel that the data we have stored about you is incorrect, you may ask us in writing to amend your data.
- You may ask us to delete your personal data. If we do so, we can (possibly) no longer provide responsible care to you. The WGBO requires a retention period of 15 years. In that case, we will therefore store your data in an inactive archive, invisible and unusable by the normal user.
- You can withdraw your consent to our processing of your personal data. We can then (possibly) not guarantee responsible care. We will then store your data in an inactive archive. (see above)
- You can object to us if you do not agree with the way we process your personal data.
- We will notify you if something has gone wrong with your personal data.
- We do not process your data longer than necessary to provide good care. We comply with the retention periods of the WGBO.
- The above also applies to personal data we receive through third parties.
